Bug Type: Dialogue Cut with NPO / C Summary Summary Summary: The quest instructs me to click on something, the dialog box appears and when I click the next, the next dialog box simply won't appear. More details: This is the Shaolin Temple Quest line, and this is my attempt at the line of pursuit in the latest update from MapleStory. Currently, my character is located in the Temple of Shaolin: The Hall of Mahavira. I perform a quest called: [Shaolin Temple] High Priest Woes in a quest that requires me to press the altar in the temple: this is the same quest: this is the altar that I am supposed to click on when my character is near the altar, having got the quest - along with the National Council For the Chinese people who gave me the quest. and this right here is the main issue, having clicked the altar, this dialog box appears and when You click nothing comes next. and here's the result: tried to reload, try it several times, confiscate and try again to no success. Therefore, I came to the conclusion that I could not make a line of pursuit, and this is actually a system malfunction.
